POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, DC

To Postal Regulatory Commissioners,

I am writing to express my displeasure about the USPS Ten Year Plan presented by Postmaster Louis DeJoy on Thursday, May 20, 2021.

I am an American citizen, and Vietnam Era veteran. I live in Hawaii, and like other Americans living in remote areas of the Country I am dependent on the Postal service to expedite communications to my family, friends, and various Commercial services on the mainland. I do not want to see any change in postal policies or planning to disrupt those services.

After reviewing the released components of the proposed USPS Ten-Year Plan, I was appalled by the obvious intent to undercut the efficiency and quality of postal services that in no way address the USPS financial concerns. Transporting posted items via trucks rather than aircraft will delay deliveries and would give competitive edge to commercial shipping firms. If enacted, it could mark the death of the USPS.

Postmaster Louis DeJoy has been a disaster for the USPS since his appointment by President Trump. His removal of blue postal boxes from the streets, dismantling of highly efficient sorting machines, and restrictions on deliveries have been a disaster in interrupting postal services. Those policies created a lack of trust in vital deliveries of medications, legal documents, foods, and specimens and led to numerous businesses attempting to change policies to electronic billing and posting. The Ten-Year Plan demonstrates once again DeJoy's inept decision making, and poor leadership.

I ask the Commission to refuse to enact DeJoy's USPS Ten-Year Plan.

Sincerely yours,

Albert Ramos
